Danyelle Semjonovs' broad labor and employment law experience includes litigation, compliance, enforcement, policy, advising, and investigations. Ms. Semjonovs advises and defends corporate clients in employment matters from simple discrimination or misclassification claims to SCA audits at the Department of Labor. She frequently handles matters involving labor and employment law, EEOC proceedings, OFCCP audits, defamation, privacy law, technology abuse, and sexual harassment/assault. In 2024, Ms. Semjonovs received her Workplace Investigations Certificate from the Society for Human Resources Management. She has served as first chair and trial counsel in numerous matters across Colorado, California, and Washington.

Ms. Semjonovs began her career as an Equal Employment Opportunity Compliance Officer for the Department of Labor's Office of Federal Contracts Compliance Programs where she made employment rights determinations and ensured that complaints and proactive enforcement activities were processed in accordance with directives, regulations, policies, and case law. She also served as a Staff Attorney for a sexual violence law center in Seattle, WA where she provided survivor-centered legal representation to sexual assault survivors on a broad range of legal matters including privacy litigation, employment discrimination based on sex, and Title IX campus hearings.

Ms. Semjonovs was recognized for her pro bono service and added to the Honor Roll of Volunteer Attorneys by the U.S. District Court for the Central District of California. She was also named Attorney of the Year by her prior firm.
